

Dear Security Applicant,

Thank you for your interest in DePaul Security. We appreciate you taking the time to apply for possible employment with us.

DePaul is a non-profit organization with a social mission of providing work opportunities for individuals with disabilities. This does not mean that you must have a disability to be a DePaul employee, but we have a hiring preference for those applicants who do have a documented disability.

Please recognize that employees are required to be at least 18 years old, go through a criminal background check that goes back ten years, successfully pass a pre-employment drug test, and provide proof of eligibility to work in the United States (verified through the Department of Labor's e-Verify system). Additionally, employees must not have been convicted of any of the attached DPSST disqualifiers within the last ten years (see attached for lifetime disqualifiers).

Throughout the application process there is no guarantee of any applicant review, employment hire, placement, training, specific hiring wage and/or site scheduling.

A DePaul Security representative will review each application and may contact you for further information. Consideration is based upon ability, past experience, and position availability. There is no guarantee that you will be contacted within a specific time frame. DePaul Security will keep your initial application on file for up to ninety (90) days.

Thank you for your interest in joining the DePaul team!!

DPSST PRIVATE SECURITY CRIMINAL DISQUALIFIERS

CRIMINAL HISTORY – Certain convictions DISQUALIFY you from being certified and you will not be allowed to work as a private security provider, under Oregon law. The attached criminal disqualifier list is provided for you to determine whether or not you want to apply. If you apply for certification or licensure and your criminal background check shows that you have been convicted of any of the below listed crimes or equivalent crimes in other jurisdictions your application will be disqualified. Please call DPSST at 503 378-8531 if you have any questions. NOTE: If you have history that you believe should have been “expunged” or removed from your record, but you do not know (proof in hand) that it was expunged or removed; you should verify your belief prior to applying. A crime is not removed from your record until you go through the formal process to have it removed. Believing a conviction was removed, or forgetting a conviction existed, is not a valid defense and your application for certification or licensure may be denied.

Discretionary Grounds for Denying, Suspending, or Revoking Private Security Certification or Licensure

The Department may deny or revoke the certification or licensure of any applicant or private security provider after written notice and hearing, if requested, upon finding that an applicant or private security provider:

Fails to meet the minimum standards for certification or licensure as a private security provider as defined in OAR 259-060-0020;

Has falsified any information submitted on the application for certification or licensure or any documents submitted to the Department pertaining to private security certification or licensure;

Has violated any of the temporary assignment provisions of OAR 259-060-0120(1);

Has failed to submit properly completed forms or documentation in a time frame as designated by the Department;

Has failed to pay a civil penalty or fee imposed by the Department when due;

Has failed to comply with any provisions found in the Act or these rules; or

Lacks moral fitness. For the purposes of this standard, the Department, through the Policy Committee and Board, has defined lack of moral fitness as:

Dishonesty. Lack of honesty includes, but is not limited to, untruthfulness, dishonesty by admission or omission, deception, misrepresentation or falsification;

Lack of Good Character. Lack of good character includes, but is not limited to, failure to be faithful and loyal to the employer's charge and failure to use discretion and compassion;

Mistreatment of Others. Mistreatment of others includes, but is not limited to, violating another person's rights and failure to respect others;

Lack of Public Trust. Failure to maintain public trust and confidence includes, but is not limited to, acting in an unlawful manner or not adhering to recognized industry standards; or Lack of Respect for the Laws of this State or Nation. Lack of respect for the laws of this state and nation includes a pattern of behavior which leads to three or more arrests or convictions within a ten-year period prior to application or during certification or licensure.

I have read the DPSST criminal background disqualifiers list and confirm that none of the listed disqualifiers apply to my personal history.

I understand that any disqualifiers which may be found as a result of a background check may result in my immediate disqualification from employment consideration.

Background Check Authorization & Fair Credit Act Statement

I understand that DePaul Industries (its subsidiaries and affiliated companies, collectively referred to as “DePaul”) will obtain a consumer report and/or investigative consumer report (“report”) as part of the hiring process. I also understand that if hired, to the extent permitted by law, DePaul may obtain further reports so as to update, renew or extend my employment.

I understand this background investigation may include obtaining information regarding my credit background, bankruptcies, lawsuits, judgments, paid tax liens, unlawful detainer actions, failure to pay spousal or child support, accounts placed for collection, character, general reputation, personal characteristics and standard of living, driving record and criminal record, subject to any limitations imposed by applicable federal and state law.

I acknowledge receipt of the attached summary of my rights under the Fair Credit Reporting Act and, as required by law, any related state summary of rights (collectively “Summaries of Rights”).

This consent will not affect my ability to question or dispute the accuracy of any information contained in a background report. I understand if DePaul makes a conditional decision to disqualify me based all or in part on my report, I will be provided with a copy of the report and another copy of the Summaries of Rights, and if I disagree with the accuracy of the purported disqualifying information in the report, I must notify DePaul within five business days of my receipt of the Report that I am challenging the accuracy.

I hereby consent to this investigation and authorize DePaul to procure a report on my background.

I further understand that DePaul will not obtain information about my credit history, credit worthiness, credit standing, or credit capacity unless: (i) the information is required by law; (ii) I am seeking employment with a financial institution.

A Summary of Your Rights Under the Fair Credit Reporting Act

The federal Fair Credit Reporting Act (FCRA) promotes the accuracy, fairness, and privacy of information in the files of consumer reporting agencies. There are many types of consumer reporting agencies, including credit bureaus and specialty agencies (such as agencies that sell information about check writing histories, medical records, and rental history records). Here is a summary of your major rights under the FCRA. For more information, including information about additional rights, go to www.ftc.gov/credit or write to: Consumer Response Center, Room 130-A, Federal Trade Commission, 600 Pennsylvania Ave. N.W., Washington, D.C. 20580.

- You must be told if information in your file has been used against you. Anyone who uses a credit report or another type of consumer report to deny your application for credit, insurance, or employment – or to take another adverse action against you – must tell you, and must give you the name, address, and phone number of the agency that provided the information.
- You have the right to know what is in your file. You may request and obtain all the information about you in the files of a consumer reporting agency (your “file disclosure”). You will be required to provide proper identification, which may include your Social Security number. In many cases, the disclosure will be free. You are entitled to a free file disclosure if: a person has taken adverse action against you because of information in your credit report; you are the victim of identify theft and place a fraud alert in your file; your file contains inaccurate information as a result of fraud; you are on public assistance; you are unemployed but expect to apply for employment within 60 days. In addition, by September 2005 all consumers will be entitled to one free disclosure every 12 months upon request from each nationwide credit bureau and from nationwide specialty consumer reporting agencies. See www.ftc.gov/credit for additional information.
- You have the right to ask for a credit score. Credit scores are numerical summaries of your credit-worthiness based on information from credit bureaus. You may request a credit score from consumer reporting agencies that create scores or distribute scores used in residential real property loans, but you will have to pay for it. In some mortgage transactions, you will receive credit score information for free from the mortgage lender.
- You have the right to dispute incomplete or inaccurate information. If you identify information in your file that is incomplete or inaccurate, and report it to the consumer reporting agency, the agency must investigate unless your dispute is frivolous. See www.ftc.gov/credit for an explanation of dispute procedures.
- Consumer reporting agencies must correct or delete inaccurate, incomplete, or unverifiable information. Inaccurate, incomplete or unverifiable information must be removed or corrected, usually within 30 days. However, a consumer reporting agency may continue to report information it has verified as accurate.
- Consumer reporting agencies may not report outdated negative information. In most cases, a consumer reporting agency may not report negative information that is more than seven years old, or bankruptcies that are more than 10 years old.
- Access to your file is limited. A consumer reporting agency may provide information about you only to people with a valid need -- usually to consider an application with a creditor, insurer, employer, landlord, or other business. The FCRA specifies those with a valid need for access.
- You must give your consent for reports to be provided to employers. A consumer reporting agency may not give out information about you to your employer, or a potential employer, without your written consent given to the employer. Written consent generally is not required in the trucking industry. For more information, go to www.ftc.gov/credit.
- You may limit “prescreened” offers of credit and insurance you get based on information in your credit report. Unsolicited “prescreened” offers for credit and insurance must include a toll-free phone number you can call if you choose to remove your name and address from the lists these offers are based on. You may opt-out with the nationwide credit bureaus at 1-888-5-OPTOUT (1-888-567-8688).
- You may seek damages from violators. If a consumer reporting agency, or, in some cases, a user of consumer reports or a furnisher of information to a consumer reporting agency violates the FCRA, you may be able to sue in state or federal court.
- Identity theft victims and active duty military personnel have additional rights. For more information, visit www.ftc.gov/credit.

States may enforce the FCRA, and many states have their own consumer reporting laws. In some cases, you may have more rights under state law. For more information, contact your state or local consumer protection agency or your state Attorney General. Federal enforcers are:
